EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations are made by way of powers in the Education and Skills Act 2008. Their purpose is to revoke and replace the Independent Educational Provision in England (Inspection Fees) and Independent School Standards (Amendment) Regulations 2018 (S.I. 2018/205), for the purposes of updating the inspection fees prescribed in those regulations.

Regulation 2 makes provision for the requirement to pay fees to Her Majesty’s Chief Inspector of Education, Children and Skills (the Chief Inspector) in respect of standard Ofsted inspections under section 109 of the Education and Skills Act 2008. Fees are not required to be paid under regulation 2 for certain types of inspections.

Regulation 3 and Table 1 set out the way that the fees are determined. The fees for the inspections referred to in regulation 2 are being increased above the rate of inflation. The fee is payable over the course of three years, and the effect of the regulation is that payment may be due under these Regulations before an inspection has happened. Regulation 4 provides for certain circumstances in which a fee payable under regulation 3 will not be refunded, even if the inspection does not take place at all (for example, in circumstances where the fee has been paid, but the school ceases to be registered).

Regulation 5 requires a fee to be payable in respect of inspections of schools that have applied to the Secretary of State to be registered. This fee is being increased above the rate of inflation.

Regulation 6 requires fees to be payable in respect of inspections of schools which appear not to be meeting the required standards (“progress monitoring inspections”). These fees are being increased above the rate of inflation.

Regulation 9 makes revocation and saving provisions. Regulation 9(2) revokes the Independent Educational Provision in England (Inspection Fees) and Independent School Standards (Amendment) Regulations 2018 (“the 2018 Regulations”), with two exceptions. The first exception is regulation 9 of the 2018 Regulations, which amended the Education (Independent School Standards) Regulations 2014. The second exception is regulation 10(3) of the 2018 Regulations, which made saving provisions in respect of the Education (Independent Educational Provision in England) (Inspection Fees) Regulations 2009 which are still needed. Savings are made in respect of an inspection which took place under the 2018 Regulations before these Regulations come into force. The effect of regulation 9(3) is to preserve the obligation to make the payment under the 2018 Regulations, notwithstanding their revocation.
